

Annual Care Checklist

Preventive care screening guidelines and counseling services for women.

Get the care you need when you need it. Take this checklist with you to your next appointment.

A preventive health visit can help you see how healthy you are now and help find any health issues before they become more serious. You and your doctor can then work together to choose the care that may be right for you. Recommended preventive care services may include the following¹:

Annual Wellness Exams	Date Done	As Needed	Date Done
<input type="checkbox"/> Blood pressure screening.		<input type="checkbox"/> Colon cancer screening for women ages 50-75 years (ask your physician about screening methods and intervals for screening).
