We care for you

We give our providers tools, so they can best care for our members. These tools are called clinical practice guidelines. They tell the providers about how to manage illnesses and promote wellness. The guidelines cover care for a variety of illnesses and conditions like diabetes, high blood pressure and depression. They also give information on how to stay well with proper diet, exercise and recommended vaccines.

Activity zone

Time to unwind

If you're feeling stressed due to COVID-19, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recommends taking a break from everyday activities. Arts and crafts are a great option to de-stress. In fact, coloring — for both children and adults — has been shown to reduce stress and anxiety. Pull out some colored pencils, crayons or markers, and make this page a work of art!

Racism and mental health

Over the past year, the media has shared stories of police brutality, hate crimes and other forms of racial discrimination. Talking about the effects of racism isn't always easy. But let's start the conversation. If racism is taking a toll on your mental health, you're not alone. Help is available.

If you think you are experiencing race-based trauma or stress, you can get help from a multicultural or racial trauma-informed therapist. These therapists work to create an open, culturally affirming and empowering space for you to heal.

It's important to find a mental health provider you feel comfortable talking with and trust. This is important for preventive care, too. You should see your primary care provider every year for an annual wellness visit. This gives your provider a chance to catch problems early, when they are easier to treat.

Find a provider. We can help you find a mental health or primary care provider who is a good fit for you. Visit myuhc.com/communityplan.

Stay well

Catch up on adolescent well visits and vaccines

Due to COVID-19, many children are behind on their well visits and vaccines. If your child missed their back-to-school checkup this year, it is not too late to make it up.

Well visits are needed all throughout childhood – from babies to teens. These visits may include:

- A physical exam
- Vaccines
- Sight and hearing tests
- Discussion of physical activity and nutrition
- Developmental screenings for speech, feeding and physical activity
- Questions about your child’s health and health history
- Lab tests, such as urine and blood tests

During the well visit, ask your child’s provider if your child is up to date with their vaccines. Staying on schedule with vaccinations protects your child as well as others from getting sick. If your child missed any of their vaccines this year, it’s not too late to make them up.

The right dose

There is no one-size-fits-all approach

Children with attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD) may have trouble paying attention in school or controlling their behavior. They also may be overly active. If your child has ADHD, their provider may suggest behavioral therapy and/or medication.

There are several kinds of medicines that treat ADHD. It may take a while to find the best one for your child. Your child may need to change medicines or dosages a few times. That’s why it’s important for children who take ADHD medicine to see their providers often for follow-up care.

Get checked. Call your child’s provider to make an appointment for a well visit. To find a new provider, visit myuhc.com/communityplan.

| Breast cancer risk factors | Cervical cancer risk factors |
|---|---|
| Are age 50 or older | Have been infected with human papillomavirus (HPV) |
| Started your period before age 12 or started menopause after age 55 | Have had other sexually transmitted infections (STIs) |
| Have a mother, sister or daughter who has had breast cancer | Have a mother, sister or daughter who has had cervical cancer |
| Are not physically active | Have had many sexual partners |
| Drink alcohol or smoke | Smoke |

It's important for all women to get screened for these cancers as recommended by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). Screenings can help catch them in their early stages, when they are easier to treat.

| Breast cancer screening guidelines | Cervical cancer screening guidelines |
|--|---|
| Mammograms, which are an X-ray of the breast, should be done every 1 to 2 years for women age 50 or older. | Women between the ages of 21 and 29 should get a Pap smear every 3 years, then Pap and HPV tests every 5 years between the ages of 30 and 65. Testing can end at age 65 for women with a history of normal results. |

Make a screening plan.

Talk to your provider about screening for breast cancer and cervical cancer. If you need to find a provider, we can help. Call Member Services toll-free at the phone number listed in the resource corner to the left. Or visit myuhc.com/communityplan.
